NOTICES FOR "PAY SOCIETY" MUST BE PAID FOR

During the past few days the Clipper has received at least one-half dozen letters requesting publication of notices for box suppers, contests, entertainments, etc., where the purpose of the gathering is to raise money for a large sum of money. It is a shame to have an advertisement for such a purpose, and cash must be made, this announcement many times before, but some do not seem to remember it.

We are always glad to have new items and the only requirement is that the writer sign his or her name so that we may know the author. But when these notices are sent in about "pay society," then it becomes advertising matter and must be paid for in advance.

RURAL BRIEFS

Mr. Emmett Harper, who is now living up at Akron, Ohio, is a columnist and tells the writer of this column that they got The Clipper up there and that it was a much read and discussed in that far off land. Well, it makes the writer feel good to know that folks away from here agree with us that we must turn to better cows if we expect to be prosperous. As we have said many times before, it takes milk to raise children, calves, pigs, chickens, rabbits, and even grown folks do better when they can get a good supply of it. We all admit that it is a good thing and we should care.

IN REMEMBRANCE OF MRS. C. G. POPE

This community and surrounding communities were grief stricken Thursday evening, October 31, 1929, when the death angel visited the home of Mrs. Mae White, taking her beloved mother, Mrs. C. G. Pope, who was ill sixteen days, being unconscious nine.

Mrs. Pope, who before her marriage was Miss Elizabeth Pickett, was born in Bullock County in the year of 1859, being seventy years of age at her death. She joined a Methodist Church when thirteen. Her membership was placed in Old Tabernacle Church, when the family moved to this part of the state about twenty years ago.

Mrs. Pope acknowledged that she was ready to go several times. When death came it was easy. Not a struggle was made and we know she is resting peacefully. Her life's picture is one that is beautiful and reflects only good that will be remembered by all who knew her. She loved everyone and was loved by all in return. She will be greatly missed and no other can fill her place, but we hope to meet her in Heaven after our work here on earth is completed.

Funeral services were held in Old Tabernacle Church Friday afternoon at three-thirty o'clock, November 1, 1929. Rev. Mr. D. L. Polson officiating. Mr. Willis Wilson was funeral director. Pallbearers were: Strickland Snodgrass, Lennie Whitaker, Ralf Wilson, A. D. Stephens, Malcolm Hornsby and Roscoe Snodgrass. The honorary pallbearers were: Messrs. J. B. Whitaker, J. A. White, J. W. Snodgrass, J. S. Truett, E. E. Wilson, L. M. Hornsby, R. C. Lowrey and E. Chatman.

Mrs. Pope leaves to mourn her loss six children, thirty-three grand children, six great-grand children and a host of other relatives and friends.

Her children are: Mr. J. W. Pope, of Saratoga, Fla.; Mrs. Mae White, New Brockton; Mr. T. O. Pope, Saratoga, Fla.; Mr. C. T. Pope, America, Ga.; and Mr. D. H. Pope, of Raiford, Fla.

ALABAMA FARM NEWS

Seven years of eradication work has been effective in ridding Alabama dairy herds of tuberculosis. In 1922 three per cent of the animals tested were reactors. During the first nine months of 1929 six thousand animals were tested and only .065 of one per cent reacted.

Heartly approval of each expenditure of public funds, the program of work, and achievement of the Extension Service of the Alabama Polytechnic Institute, was voiced by representatives of the U. S. Department of Agriculture after finishing their annual inspection. Dr. J. A. Evans and Dr. L. W. Hill made the inspection and report.

WEAK SPELLS

"I was so weak," says Mrs. Josephine Cockcroft, of Baldock, S. C., "that I was not able to do anything."

"At certain times, I suffered dreadfully with pains in my back and sides. My head would hurt like it would split open. Spells of weakness would last for weeks."

"I read of Cardui. I sent for a bottle and began taking it. My case was stubborn, and at times I almost lost hope, but I could see a little improvement. At last I began to feel much better. Then I improved rapidly. For the last year I have been in better health than I ever have been before."

"I give the credit to Cardui. For after I had given it a thorough trial, I got well."

Group Teacher's Meeting Held At Basin Friday

The teachers of Southwestern section of the county met at Basin Friday, November 22. The work for the day was planned to carry out the main objective of the year, which is English.

The teachers were first asked to the room of Miss Hazel Bonneau, where she taught a first grade reading lesson. This lesson was effectively taught by the new methods. We feel that the teachers were greatly benefited by the lesson.

We were then entertained with music. Miss Farris played several selections on her portable and the first grade pupils kept time with the music. Miss Farris gave many good suggestions to teachers in the teaching of singing and music.

The teachers were then asked to Mrs. Colquitt's room. In here we observed her teach a second grade oral language lesson. It was fine how the small children could master the good English habits.

We went to the third grade room. In here the teachers observed a third grade oral language lesson, the subject being birds. This was a very good lesson. It showed good work and accomplishment on both pupils and teachers.

From the third grade room we were ushered into the intermediate room. Miss Ruth Andrews taught a fifth grade oral composition lesson and a sixth grade English lesson. These lessons were effectively and very successfully carried out.

At the noon hour the teachers were served a very appetizing plate lunch. This lunch was furnished and served by the patrons and teachers of the school.

After lunch all teachers assembled to discuss the wonderful demonstration lessons. In the discussion the most helpful things of the day were discussed. These lessons increased the teachers' ideas for teaching. All the teachers were benefited by these lessons.

Mr. Rowe Watson, our superintendent, was an appreciated visitor of the day.

We, as teachers, wish to express our many thanks to Miss Farris and the teachers for the courtesies that were shown us during the day.

Notices For "Pay Socials" Must Be Paid For

During the past few days The Clipper has received at least one-half dozen letters requesting publicity of notices for box suppers, contests, entertainments, etc., where the purpose of the gathering is to sell something or charge an admittance fee. Items of this character come under the head of classified advertisements and we charge at the rate of 1c per word for publishing them, and cash must accompany the notice. We have made this announcement many times before, but some do not seem to remember it.

We are always glad to have news items and the only requirement is that the writer sign his or her name so that we may know the author. But when these notices are sent in about "pay socials," then it becomes advertising matter and must be paid for in advance.

Price Forecast As Alabama Hogs Die

AUBURN, Ala., Nov. 26.—Each rood freeze from late November through January is accompanied by the slaughter of hogs by the thousands on Alabama farms. This year approximately 500,000 hogs will be slaughtered to furnish meat for home consumption. At present prices the value of these hogs will be about $7,000,000.

F. W. Gist, State and Federal statistician, is the authority on which these figures are based. During 1928 Alabama farmers sold and slaughtered 900,000 hogs valued at $14,218,000. Mr. Gist made no estimate as to division between "sold" and "slaughtered," but an official estimate is that half of them were slaughtered on farms.

Many of the farmers will be aided in doing their slaughtering properly by Farmers' Hog Killing, Curing and Canning. This bulletin may be had from county agents.

While killing and slaughtering are in progress, J. D. Pope, farm economist at the Alabama Polytechnic Institute, foresees a price improvement after the first of January. Further price decline is expected by him during December. If the well-known law of supply and demand is allowed to operate without disturbance, farmers should realize more money for their hogs this winter than they did last winter, he said.

However, the number of hogs now on Alabama farms is less than the number on the farms of the State a year ago. Federal figures released in June showed that the number of pigs saved in Alabama in the spring of 1929 was 6 per cent less than the number saved in the spring of 1928.

JUSTICE A LA AMERICANO

On the front page of yesterday's Eagle was a group picture of six gentlemen of Flint, Mich. They are former executives of the Union Industrial Bank of that city. They are charged with having invested $3,500,000 of the bank's funds in the Stock Market, which recently lost its flying speed, fell into the inevitable spin and crashed.

These gentlemen are distinguished for being identified with the biggest embezzlement in the nation's history, which will probably bring their salvation. The records show that the more one steals the lighter his sentence will be.

In Georgia last year a negro stole a mule and was given 20 years. Brother Clinton Carnes of the Baptist Mission Board, also of Georgia, came up short nearly a million, lost to Canaan, was caught, pleaded guilty and was given, if memory serves correctly, six years.

But why wander to a neighborly State for exhibits? The president of a defunct Birmingham bank, with 15 or 20 indictments against him, this month pleaded guilty and got five years. If he had stolen a million perhaps the presiding would have reduced his sentence to six months in jail.

But when one steals from the government the sentences come even lighter. Nobody has landed in jail for oil steal-out except Sinclair, and he was convicted only of contempt. It is true that Dr. Fall was convicted of bribery and fined $100,000 and given from one to three years, but it must be admitted his case is a brilliant exception and far removed from the average.

If you are determined to be a crook, as in for his money and steal it without the use of a black-jack or pistol.

But don't drive a car without a
